

Ramona Contreras handles all marketing efforts at Gulf Coast Regional Blood Center. She specializes in integrating analytics into the organization's marketing strategy and continuously uses data to make adjustments in real time as necessary to ensure optimal results. A native of Romania, Ramona has a bachelor's degree in business management from the University of George Bacovia, Romania.